Tin, Rubber Quiet

From Our Financial Correspondent
Singapore, Tuesday.

WITH buyers still holding off, the tin share market was extremely quiet yesterday. Hong Fatts were done at $1.45 and a few Putehs and Jelebus changed hands. Raubs, despite the declaration of dividend, were no better and a few shares changed hands at unchanged prices.

There was little interest in rubber shares and the only business recorded was a couple of transaction in Allenby and Sungei Ramal.

There was some selective buying of a few industrials including Uniteers, Breweries and Hong Kong Banks.

The Straits Settlements three per cent. war loan was slightly easier at 102 $\frac{1}{4}$.

LONDON AND NEW YORK PRICES

TIN: London, £264 $\frac{1}{4}$ (up £1 $\frac{3}{4}$).
Spot, £266 (up £2 $\frac{1}{2}$); New York, 51 $\frac{1}{2}$ c. (up $\frac{3}{8}$ c.).

RUBBER: London, 12 11|16d (down $\frac{1}{8}$); New York, 20 $\frac{1}{2}$ c. (up $\frac{1}{4}$ c.).
